Offerings for teams & communities:

Workshop || Meet the herd ||
95.- excl btw pp / 115.- incl btw pp
Min nr of participants: 5

A workshop in which we take the time to observe horses, and to see and feel what that evokes in you. In manageable exercises, we explore how our perspective changes when we shift our attention from the outside to the inside. How present do you remain in your own body when you connect with others? And how does that influence group dynamics?

In this workshop we address:

- grounding in your own body
- feeling the space of presence
- understanding the basis of projection and transference

What you get:

- a safe setting where you do not have to share anything you do not want to share
- the invitation to try something new and observe your own reactions
- 1:1 guidance from a fellow coach, if needed
- a mix of theory and meditation exercises
- a handout with tips for further practice
